

Life in Chittagong returns to normal

CHITTAGONG, May 18:—Life in Chittagong is fast returning to normal. Markets and shops have been opened and people in large numbers are attending their respective offices and the civil administration is functioning smoothly, reports APP.

The local district peace committee is lending active cooperation to the Martial Law authority.

The Chittagong District Peace Committee was formed on April 20 at a public meeting held at the Muslim Institute hall comprising members of all political parties. Mr. Mahmud-unabi Chowdhury, ex-Minister, was elected convener of the general committee while Mr. Sultan Ahmed, ex-Minister was elected convener of the steering committee.

The peace committee is helping the Martial Law authorities in the normal functioning of the administration. The peace committee office is humming with activities and everyday a large number of persons are visiting the office to express their grievances and their complaints are being placed before the Martial Law authorities.

All miscreants who made the life of innocent people miserable have been cleared.

Peace committee members are taking every step so that people may regain their confidence and take to their respective vocations in various sectors like education, agriculture, industry, and other fields. Meanwhile, 25 union peace committees have been formed in the city and peace committee members are visiting all areas of the city and suburbs regularly. Steps are being taken to form thana peace committees within a week.
