

70 anti-state elements killed in Mymensingh

The Razakars in Mymensingh district killed 70 anti-state elements and injured many besides capturing a huge quantity of arms and ammunition during last month, reports APP.

According to details reaching Dacca, the miscreants attempted to destroy a bridge in a village near Sherpur on July 4, but the Razakars foiled their attempt inflicting heavy casualties. The miscreants fled away leaving behind 19 dead, 13 slabs of TNT, a number of hand grenades, anti-tank mines and 19 tubes of India-made explosives.

Next day, the rebels were reported in a village, 20 miles away from Sherpur. The Razakars raided the village and killed 24 miscreants and captured some rifles, hand grenades and 300 maunds of rice stored there.

On the night of 13/14 July, the Razakars while on a routine patrol had a clash with miscreants in area Nakla in Mymensingh district. In this clash the Razakars killed 4 miscreants and captured two sten guns, six grenades and 60 rounds of 303 rifle.

Four days later, the Razakars raided a village Fulkandi in police station Islampur and killed 23 anti-state elements.